FHC CHINA INTERNATIONAL CULINARY ARTS COMPETITION

November 10–12, 2026 · Shanghai

In the Competition Kitchens at FHC Shanghai

Inspiration Spice was the official sponsor of blended seasonings for the 27th FHC China International Culinary Arts Competition in Shanghai.

A competitor prepares a fish fillet with Inspiration Spice seasonings at his station.

Chefs and visitors gather at the Inspiration Spice stand.

Two Challenges, Two Traditions

Two challenges carried the Inspiration Spice name. One invited chefs to create a Chinese fusion hot dish. The other called for an original Western main course. In each challenge, entrants used at least one designated Inspiration Spice seasoning, then decided for themselves where it belonged on the plate.

Beyond the Competition Floor

A short walk from the competition kitchens, visitors to the Inspiration Spice stand could see the blends up close and talk with our team about menu applications. The same question connected the two spaces. What would you do with this flavor in your own kitchen?

Read the full article

www.inspirationspice.com/news/fhc-blended-seasonings/

From the Competition Kitchens to the Podium

At the stations

A young chef reaches for seasoning at the competition station.

A chef tends a pan at the stove.

Three chefs show the Inspiration Spice emblem on their sleeves.

Western main course entries

Carved pigeon, vegetables and jus, presented with the competitor's entry card.

A fish main course with asparagus and two sauces.

Read the full article

www.inspirationspice.com/news/fhc-blended-seasonings/

From the Competition Kitchens to the Podium

The chefs behind the dishes

A medalist brings his certificate to the Inspiration Spice stand.

Tom Wen joins two young chefs at the stand.

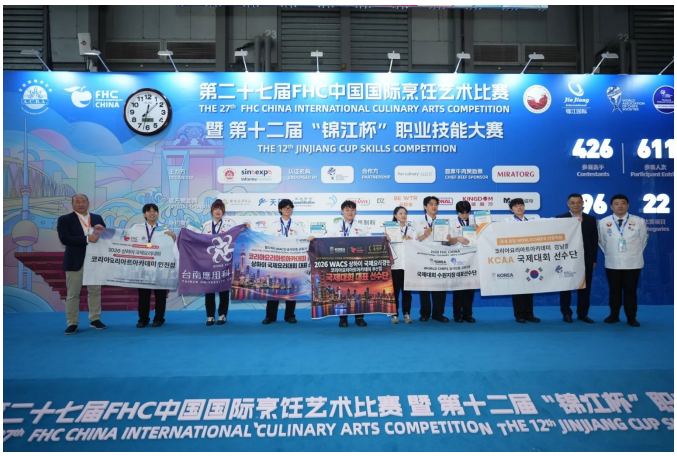

Members of the Korean team pose with medals and certificates.

On stage in Shanghai

A chef receives his medal and certificate.

Teams gather on the main stage with their banners.

Read the full article

www.inspirationspice.com/news/fhc-blended-seasonings/